

New York Pharma Forum x AMED March 2018 Program

---

PROGRAM DATE: Tuesday March 13, 2018

(*followed by partnering meetings on Wednesday March 14th)

LOCATION: JETRO New York

---

New York Pharma Forum and the Japan Agency for Medical Research and Development (AMED) brought Japanese scientists to NYC to showcase their research seeds and explore partnering opportunities.

Speakers	Topics
Dr. Mariko Tosu , Representative Director & CEO, Braizon Therapeutics, Inc.	Glycaemic Control Boosts Glucosylated Nanocarrier Crossing the Blood-brain Barrier (BBB) into the Brain
Dr. Yutaka Kondo , Professor, Division of Cancer Biology, Graduate School of Medicine Nagoya University	Antisense Oligonucleotide Coupled with Drug Delivery System as an Effective Treatment of Glioblastoma
Dr. Eiji Matsuura , Professor, Neutron Therapy Research Center, Okayama University	New Era of In Vivo Molecular Imaging and Targeted Medical Care: Antibody-Based Theranostics
Dr. Takashi Umeharra , Unit Leader, Epigenetics Drug Discovery Unit, RIKEN Center for Life Science Technologies	Potent Inhibitor of LSD1 as a Treatment of Glioblastoma
Dr. Makoto Yamashita , Project Professor, Division of Virology, Institute of Medical Science, The University of Tokyo	Research and Discovery of Innovative Ways to Treat and Prevent Influenza (Adjuvant, Monoclonal Antibody, and Vaccine)